

Digital partnership with the Eastern Cape Department of Education

Key Challenges

Adoption of digital education

We were initially hesitant to adopt digital education because we weren't sure how to implement it effectively.

User onboarding

Onboarding thousands of educators initially seemed daunting, especially with limited support available.

Integration ability

There was uncertainty about integrating with other leading educational technology partners, like Google and Microsoft, and how to go about it.

Third-party apps

It was a challenge to purchase, manage, and access subscription licenses for third-party apps across different platforms.

We have been impressed by Snapplify's comprehensive training and support, as well as the excellent technology and educational resources that they have made easily available. Thousands of our learners have already been able to access a broad range of quality educational content through the Snapplify platform.

Implementation

Access a wide range of reading materials instantly

With the Engage platform, our learners and teachers now have 24/7 access to a vast e-Library filled with educational and leisure reading content. Whether they're at school, at home, or on the go, they can easily dive into relevant and engaging material whenever they need it.

User data and identity management

Managing student data and identities has become effortless, significantly reducing the workload for our IT administrators. The tools provideThe Snapplify team offered continuous support, quickly resolving any issues and ensuring the platform was always used to its full potential.

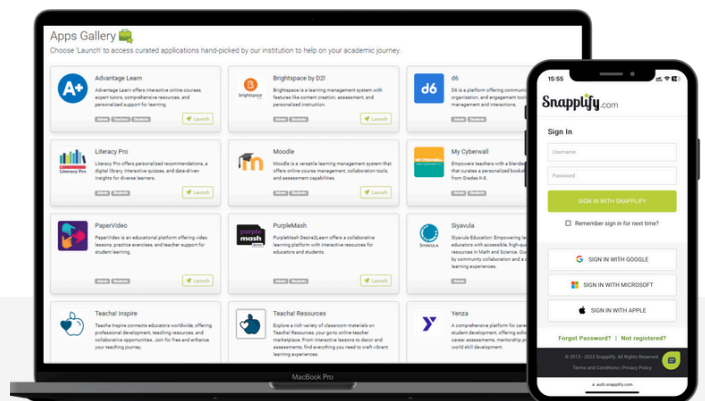

Effortless onboarding

Snapplify made it incredibly easy for our teachers and learners to get started. They provided every teacher and learner across the province with their own user accounts, which allowed everyone to dive into the platform without any delays.

Access

With Snapplify, over 1.8 million of our learners can now effortlessly connect to digital education platforms, opening up a world of new learning opportunities.

The decision to choose Snapplify

Choosing Snapplify has been a game-changer for us. The ability to integrate our existing identity management systems for secure logins has given us peace of mind, knowing that our learners' and staff's data is protected. Privacy compliance is a top priority for us, and Snapplify's solutions make it easy to manage and safeguard our information without the usual headaches.

What really sets Snapplify apart is how seamlessly it connects with over 600 digital education tools. This has allowed us to build a more connected and dynamic learning environment, tailored to our needs. With Snapplify, we're not just managing our digital resources better; we're enhancing the entire educational experience for our learners and staff.

For any institution looking to simplify digital learning while ensuring security and integration, Snapplify is the way to go.
